Can you describe and/or demonstrate the specific impact that TFN funding has had against your initial objectives?	The money we raised at TFN was to enable us to expand our programme to more students in Oxford. Unfortunately the lockdown and coronavirus limited our opportunities for the planned outreach work to recruit these additional students. Our aim was 14 participants and we've recruited 3 for this year's programme and 5 for last year's programme. Nonetheless, the TFN funding was vital in funding the places of the 5 students that completed our 2019-20 programme, which moved online for Easter, and enabling us to deliver this programme to 3 new participants from Oxford for our 2020-21 summer programme. Despite moving online we have seen a promising and positive impact in student aspirations in education and an increased likelihood to apply to highly-selective universities, which was maintained at Easter for our 5 students from Oxford.
